We're All in This Together

Life changed drastically in March for everyone. Those changes affected not only residents of west Michigan or the United States, but also people throughout the world. With the introduction of this microscopic coronavirus, people worldwide are experiencing a pandemic that leaves them fearful of this organism that is detrimental to the health of people, particularly our senior population. Although it has not necessarily claimed a great number of lives, it has the capabilities of playing havoc with people's respiratory systems. At additional risk are people whose health is already compromised in any way.

With the closure of movie theaters, gyms, bowling alleys, bars, casinos, restaurants, and bridge clubs (Even the spring national tournament scheduled for Columbus, OH in March was cancelled.), people are restricted from going out and are essentially self-quarantined.

Family gatherings have been scrapped; weddings, reunions, big family parties can't be held because of restrictions on the number of people who can gather. Travel is equally unattractive. If one must travel any distance by car, staying at hotels or motels is not that appealing nor is air travel particularly enticing.

States closed their schools until further notice, the stock market has experienced historic, unprecedented drops, senior care facilities are restricting visitors, so families are experiencing heart-breaking separation. People who follow and enjoy sports are feeling the pinch also since all sports have been suspended.

Like no other event you have ever attended, Fred and Dorothy Fichter's Butterflies are Blooming exhibition is at Meijer Gardens until 89 April 30. The twomonth long annual celebration began its 25th year March 1. It is the largest temporary tropical butterfly exhibition in the country. Visitors will see longwings, swallowtails, lacewings and many other unique and exotic specimens. Although the winged stars of the exhibition don't have any restrictions, visitors are reminded "Don't touch the butterflies.'

It is heart-warming and uplifting to hear of someone celebrating such an advanced birthday. You give us hope, and because you are a bright, levelheaded woman, we are sure you will take care of yourself during this trying time. We all hope to celebrate number 107 with you next May.

Happy Birthday, Cora.

This devastating coronavirus is playing havoc with participation in our favorite card game and pastime. Because of social distancing and the "stay at home" order, bridge clubs everywhere have canceled regular games. Most (if not all) tournaments have been canceled or postponed. Even the spring and summer nationals scheduled for March 19-29 and July 16-26 have been canceled. It seems like cruel and unusual punishment, but these precautions are for our own good.

The Novel Coronavirus' Impact

You may have noticed there are some blanks for stand-bys on the calendar. The sign-up sheet was at the game site when the quarantine kicked in, but with the cancelations, stand-bys are not a real necessity. If the games resume during this quarter. some of those unused stand-bys may volunteer to fill in one of the openings. Some of the special events also may be changed in order to include them.

This festive cupcake is meant to emind us of our annual birthday, a once joyous occasion, but now they seem to occur far too often and are not the source of happiness they once were. Players at the BCGR enjoy the first Thursday of each month since that is the day people celebrating a birthday that month are treated to a free play a birthday gift to bring back that smile associated with one's natal day. Others are pleased since they are treated to a piece of birthday cake (or some sweet) that day. Birthday parties this quarter are April 2, May 7, and June 4.

Lyle G. Brockway 1924 - 2020

Lyle G. Brockway, a one-time regular at our games and member of the BCGR, passed away early New Year's Day in 2020. Lyle's health had been failing lately after suffering some setbacks in recent years; he had to quit his duplicate bridge playing quite a few months ago.

Lyle moved to Grand Rapids more than 20 years ago. He had been living in the Cadillac area and played in Cadillac, Ludington, Traverse City and other cities north of us. His easy going attitude and friendly demeanor made him a welcome addition to the BCGR.

Lyle was eager, calm, eventempered and always a gentleman at the table. Soft-spoken, he was never critical of his partners or opponents which made him a desirable partner and pleasant opponent. He had a kind word for everyone, and his candor made him someone people enjoyed talking to.

During World War II, Lyle joined the military and became an ace pilot, who flew a number of highly successful missions in Germany. As a result of his outstanding record in the air, Lyle was highly decorated. Despite his stellar accomplishments, he seldom talked about it. He was humble, modest, and reserved and probably had more than enough reason to brag about his involvement in the war effort.

Lyle had spent the last several months at Clark Retirement Home and was a regular at the daily rubber bridge game there. Like his many friends at Clark and members of his large family, his friends at the BCGR will also miss him.

It's ironic that Earth Day celebrated its 50th anniversary on April 22 in the midst of this pandemic. Activities planned for the day were restricted and limited as a result of our social distancing and sheltering in place.

Happy Father's Day June 21, 2020

Fans of pro teams (basketball, hockey, baseball, etc.) or collegiate/high school teams are unable to attend or watch televised games.

Locally the Tulip Festival in Holland has been cancelled for the first time in 91 years, and the Festival of the Arts in early June at Calder Plaza has been cancelled for the first time in 50 years.

True worldwide is the fact that cancellations and postponements have become the rule rather than the exception. The Kentucky Derby has been postponed, the Pope is saying mass to an empty St. Peter's Square, and hundreds of concerts, other musical events, and live theater have been cancelled. There are sure to be many more cancellations in the future.

It's clear that this challenge will not be easy. Because we are good at problem-solving, creative, and resilient, we will probably come through this with flying colors and hopefully unscathed. Let's hope and pray that the end of this pandemic is near and that it doesn't do much more damage than has been done already.

April is Charity Game month. The ACBL-wide Charity Game #2 is scheduled for Wednesday, April 29. Grass Roots FUNd games are to take place in May. Finally, the NAP qualifying games begin in June. Check the calendar on page 1 for the dates of these special games.

Winners of the Mini McKenney and Ace of Clubs awards for 2019 at the Unit level can be found on pages 5 through 7. The Mini McKenney awards go to the players who won the most points in each of fifteen different categories; the Helen Shanbrom Ace of Clubs awards go to the people amassing the largest totals of points won locally at club games. The top spots of the various groups include 15 players from the BCGR, and we are very proud of their achievements.

Looking ahead to the summer, Lansing will hold its annual sectional in late July. The August regional will be held August 10-16 in picturesque Petoskey. As many of you know, it is held at the Odawa casino and offers players something to do after the bridge games.

Masterpoint Races

Every unit in the ACBL recognizes the top ten recipients in 15 categories of the Mini-McKenney contest for ACBL members who amass the largest number of masterpoints during the year in their respective categories. The Helen Shanbrom contest awards the top recipients of masterpoints won at the club level in each of the same 15 categories. Of the total 30 divisions between the two contests, nearly 50 per cent of the winners are members of the BCGR; names of other BCGR members appeared in many additional positions. We are proud of our members and all the players from other cities who finished in the overalls.

(Impact continued from page 2) scheduled for May 1-3, has been cancelled. Our own sectional scheduled for May 7-9 also has been canceled. Let's hope that this stay at home order ends in time for Kalamazoo to hold its tournament scheduled for May 29-31.

Although the number of deaths resulting from COVID-19 is under the 8400 mark here in Michigan (April 25), the number of positive cases (currently under 40000) appears to be dwindling. Let's hope these drastic isolation measures have helped. If we continue to heed the advice of those in the know, we may overcome this source of anxiety and disruption. Hopefully we will return to "normal" very soon. In the meantime, keep the faith and STAY SAFE.

Checkback Stayman

This handy extension of the essential Stayman convention is used to check for an eight-card major suit fit when opener rebids two no trump after responder's major suit response to opener's minor suit opening. It may seem a bit complex at first, but it is as simple as Stayman itself.

The following two examples were taken from the ACBL-Wide Senior Pairs event on March 2, 2020. You are West in each example and the actual bidding is shown.

| A) | ★ K 9 6 3 2 | B) | ♠ Q 10 6 4 2  |
|----|--------------------|----|---------------|
|    | ♥ AQ86      |    | ♥ 9542 |
|    | ♦ 3 2              |    | ♦ J 5         |
|    | ♣ 94        |    | ♣ KJ   |

The bidding for hand A:

| North   | East | South | West |
|---------|------|-------|------|
| Pass    | 1♦   | Pass  | 1 ♠  |
| Pass    | 2NT  | Pass  | 3♣   |
| Pass    | 3♥   | Pass  | 4♥   |
| (All pa | ıss) |       |      |

The bidding for hand B:

| North   | East | South | West |
|---------|------|-------|------|
|         | 1 🕭  | Pass  | 1 ♠  |
| Pass    | 2NT  | Pass  | 3♣   |
| Pass    | 3♥   | Pass  | 4♥   |
| (All po | ıss) |       |      |

With hand A you bid three clubs (Checkback Stayman) and it checks for first - a 4-card holding in the other major (hearts), and second - three spades. You won't miss the 8-card fit if there is one.

With hand B, again you bid three clubs, which asks, "Do you have either four hearts or three spades?" Once the 8-card fit is discovered, a heart game should be bid.

Here are a couple of helpful hints that you might want to keep in mind during the bidding to simplify this convention. First, regardless of opener's initial opening, it might be easier to always use three clubs as Checkback Stayman. Save the New Minor Forcing convention for handling the same situation over a rebid of one no trump. It just seems to be easier to always use three clubs as Checkback.

The other big consideration is what do you do as opener with both four of the unbid major and 3-card support for partner's major suit. Since it often is better to play in a 4-4 trump fit, it is always best to show your 4-card major.

If responder bids 3 no trump after the "other major" response by opener, opener realizes that his partner must have a 5-card major and was looking for 3-card support. In that case, opener simply corrects 3NT to four of responder's major suit.

In the event that opener has neither four of the unbid major nor 3card support for responder's major, he rebids 3NT, which says just that.

It may seem a bit confusing at first, but it is not. It is really very simple, and once you use it, you'll see how effective and worthwhile it is. In most cases, it will get you to the contract that most of the field will reach. If it's not on your convention card yet, it should be.

Here are hands A and B in their entirety:

Hand A will yield from ten to twelve tricks depending on the defense.

Hand B will probably fail by a trick, but if the defense slips just a bit, declarer may land his game.
